

I am very much disturbed ...about " Blahs ..Blahs...Blahs "regarding the initiative and help of UN in our present struggle, search and quest for justice and peace . Here is my personal view and words of encouragement amidst chaotic helplessness.

Dear Seekers of Justice and Righteousness,
Greetings to you all.

Personally, I have had long and solid memories of working with UN in New York, USA through my engagement with Anglican Observer Office at the UN (then representing Archbishop Andrew Mya Han, Primate and Archbishop of Church of the Province of Myanmar) as a member of the Anglican Justice and Peace Network -APJN .

.....my personal bitter experience is that UN is simply a graveyard of ... documents on discussions, resolutions, consensuses, and deliberations, and consequently my conclusion is thatif powerful member countries of UN are not interested in the" issues" ...they just turn it to become "tissues", by simply cooperating with countries who have "veto" options.

.....it is very clear that UN's "Veto" syndrome is equivalent to Myanmar's "2008 Constitution", it is completely useless.

.....Let us concentrate on internal power of the Protesters, CDMers, CRPHers and all supporters.

.....be mindful that given their positions and convictions, UN , EU, and other countries can only give verbal moral support and nothing else.

.....the strength for needed change fundamentally lies in us, the downtroddens, the vulnerables and the bullied

.....let us continue even without any mercies from any one.

.....then when the time comes, we all will be free from being indebted to any one in our celebration of the victory of our struggle for freedom and democracy.

With warm regards,

Points to ponder :-

" Let us not become weary in doing good things for promoting justice and righteousness. for at the proper time, it is definite that we will reap a harvest of victory if we do not give up . (Galatians 6:9)"
